Jayshree Patel Posted an announcement 16 minutes ago
Project Tiger, started in 1972, is a major effort to conserve the tiger and its habitats in India. At the turn of the 20th century, one estimate of the tiger population in India placed the figure at 40,000, yet an Indian tiger census conducted in 1972 revealed the existence of only 1827 tigers. Various pressures in the latter part of the 20th century led to the progressive decline of wilderness resulting in the disturbance of viable tiger habitats. At the International Union for Conservation of Nature and Natural Resources (IUCN) General Assembly meeting in Delhi in 1969, serious concern was voiced about the threat to several species of wildlife, and the shrinkage of wilderness in India from poaching. In 1970, a national ban on tiger hunting was imposed, and in 1972 the Wildlife Protection Act came into force. The framework was then set to formulate a project for tiger conservation with anecological approach.

Trees are important, valuable and necessary for the existence of any living creature on earth. They are essential to life as we know it and are the ground troops on an environmental frontline.
Oxygen production, cleaning the soil, controlling noise pollution, slowing down storm water runoff, acting as carbon sinks, cleaning the air, providing shade and coolness, being windbreaks and fighting soil erosion can be considered as the first few reasons why trees are priceless.
In the State of Maharashtra, the Maharashtra (Urban Areas) Protection and Preservation of Trees Act, 1975 makes a better provision for trees in the urban areas by regulating felling of trees and providing for planting of adequate number of new trees in those areas.
This act states that no can fell any tree or cause any tree to be felled, whether of ownership or otherwise, in an urban area without seeking the permission of the Tree Authority.

Trees are important, valuable and necessary for the existence of any living creature on earth. They are essential to life as we know it and are the ground troops on an environmental frontline.
Oxygen production, cleaning the soil, controlling noise pollution, slowing down storm water runoff, acting as carbon sinks, cleaning the air, providing shade and coolness, being windbreaks and fighting soil erosion can be considered as the first few reasons why trees are priceless.
In the State of Maharashtra, the Maharashtra (Urban Areas) Protection and Preservation of Trees Act, 1975 makes a better provision for trees in the urban areas by regulating felling of trees and providing for planting of adequate number of new trees in those areas

About Us
Our goal is to help find a financial solution for the student specific need and we believe that every student deserves a fair shot at education and life, these will provide the student with tools and knowledge to succeed in life and have more opportunities for their future.
We believe education is the foundation of a great nation, by helping a student you are not only giving them a better opportunity for life , you are building a new, more human and sensitive generation, help them to get their tuition,pay their college loan, books and living expenses.
We know for a fact that there are thousands of educational givers and have these same concerns and desire of equality of opportunities ,thats why we put all our efforts to connect these givers with the students in need, so that givers can get to know the student needs, dreams and aspirations.

FAQ's
Testing purpose
For most contributions are non-tax-deductible. However, some campaigns may choose to offer tax deductions on donations only if they are set up as a non-profit and only receive funds into their not-profit-profit PayPal account.
How much does Indiegogoclone cost?
Joining Indiegogoclone is free however, there is a standard platform fee levied on any funds raised through the platform, which is 3.5% of funds raised if you meet your goal or 6.5% if you do not meet your goal.
Do you recommend connecting with Facebook or Twitter?
Yes, we do! It's a simple way for anyone to log in to Indiegogoclone.
If you're a campaigner, it's a great way to let backers know a little bit more about you. It's an easy way to show backers you're a real person. You may also edit the privacy settings of your Facebook or Twitter account to control what your guests see.
What is indiegogo clone?
Crowd funding site
Does Indiegogoclone ascertain a campaign or owner's claim?
Indiegogoclone does not ascertain a campaign's or owner's claims. All claims and responsibilities of each project are its owner's. People decide a project's legitimacy or worthiness and decide whether they want to make a donation or not
What is indiegogo?
indiegogo is a fundraising service platform that provides people who want to raise money an avenue to create, launch and broadcast their campaigns. indiegogo is also used by people to find inspiring campaigns from across the world that they can align with.
